SCHOOL REPORT.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 1, 1882.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The summer term was commenced by Miss Rosette A. Rowell of Newport. Miss Rowell possesses rare natural fitness for a teacher, and takes a deep interest in her work, and although this was her first attempt at teaching, had she been able to complete the term it undoubtedly would have been one of rare success ; but on account of ill health she closed her labors with the school at the end of the first week. The school was immediately placed in charge of Miss Lura A. Gove of Newbury. Miss Gove's manner lacked that enthusiasm and decision necessary to success in teaching, and she apparently did not succeed in awakening a sustained interest in the school ; yet this was her first term, and these defects may be effaced by experience. During the fall and winter term Miss Lois A. Hurd of Newport, had charge of this school. Miss Hurd is a prompt and thorough teacher, who realizes that telling is not teaching. Her energy has secured unusually good order, and her slight dependence upon text-books for questions, required a thoughtful study of the subject by her pupils ; and decided improvement in scholarship was made. During the fall term death has removed two members of the school from the scenes of this earthly life,—Susie and Frankie Babb. In their deaths this school has indeed met with a loss that is deeply felt by all who knew them ; quick to learn, kind and affectionate in disposition, these children were among the best scholars in the school. Mr. Babb's family receive in their sad affliction and sorrowful bereavement the heartfelt sympathy of the citizens of this town.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

This school, for the entire year, has been under the charge of Miss Lucy A. Young, who has conducted the school in a very satisfactory manner. Very thorough drill was shown in every study, and the recitations demonstrated the pains which must have been taken by the teacher to secure so high a standard. The teacher and district have reason to be satisfied with the result of the year's work.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

The summer term was in charge of Miss Effie C. Noyes. This was her first attempt at teaching, and considering the shortness of the term, her inexperience, and that the scholars are all of them young, a very good beginning was made. Miss Noyes won the love and esteem of her pupils, and is a very pleasant associate for children. For the winter the committee secured the services of Miss Ina E. Bartlett. Miss Bartlett is a fine scholar, and discharged her duties very commendably; but had there been a livelier interest felt on the part of the pupils, and a more constant attendance, much greater progress would have been made.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Summer term was taught by Miss Luette S. Knowlton, of New London. Miss Knowlton is one of our most experienced, persevering and successful teachers. Her instruction is systematic, her management excellent, and the general appearance of the school and the progress made thoroughly satisfactory and pleasing. Her zeal and earnestness are worthy of imitation. In the winter this school was under the charge of Miss Clara B. Barton of Croydon, who with uncommon ability and devotion applied herself to the duties of her chosen calling. This term was eminently successful and gave entire satisfaction. Miss Barton possesses natural talent for teaching in a large degree, and this associated with her winning ways make her a very successful teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

The summer term was conducted by Miss Ella M. Hunting of New London. It was her first experience in teaching, and she labored earnestly and with a good measure of success to advance her pupils in their studies ; and by her kind and gentle manners she secured the highest esteem of both parents and pupils. At the close of this term the school room was beautifully trimmed with leaflet and floral ornamentation.

The fall and winter term was taught by Miss Roena A. Russell, of New London. Miss Russell had charge of the summer term in district No. 9, and there earned an enviable reputation as a teacher, and it is sufficient to remark that she has fully sustained that reputation, and that both terms of school have been highly successful.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

In this district there has been but one term of school, taught by Miss Effie C. Noyes. There was no attempt to accomplish great things, but the faithful discharge of duties from day to day. The few scholars were well instructed, and notwithstanding their loneliness made pleasing progress in learning.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

This school for the entire year was under the instruction of Miss Eliza A. Tucker, who filled her position with uncommon ability and faithfulness. The scholars became deeply interested in their studies, were judiciously aided by their teacher, and accomplished an amount of solid work which they will ever look back to with pleasure. The progress made in this school during the year, demonstrate the folly of a frequent change of teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

Summer and fall terms were in charge of Miss Flora C. Clough, of Grantham, who has had charge of this school six terms, which fact of itself shows the acceptable work done and gave evidence of her untiring zeal. She severed her connection with this school in order to fit herself for more extended usefulness. The best wishes of the district go with the teacher for her continued prosperity. Mr. Josiah Davis, of Plainfield, took charge of the winter term, Mr. Davis is a gentleman of very strong, positive, personal qualities, and is a veteran in the work of school teaching; consequently under his systematic management the school has been raised to a standard of merit rarely met with.

DISTRICT NO. 9.

Summer term was taught by Miss Roena A. Russell. Miss Russell found the school not in the best of order, but by careful training good order has been secured, and she left the school in a good condition. Although Miss Russell has had but little experience in teaching, she ranks high as a teacher and few surpass her in school drill. In the fall the services of Mr. Edwin P. Stickney, 2d, were secured. This was Mr. Stickney's first experience in teaching, and being a gentleman and a scholar he could hardly fail of interesting all under his instruction; and being genial and pleasant in his manners, he wins the respect of his scholars, yet not at the sacrifice of the necessary discipline. The management of the school and the progress made has been highly satisfactory, and the teacher justly deserves the credit which he has gained by his success.

Believing that in place of Greenleaf's Arithmetic some other work might be better adapted to the times. The Fish-Robinson, a work highly commended by competent authorities, was substituted and has thus far proved highly satisfactory. With this exception the list of text books remains the same as last year.

In concluding my third annual report, and severing my connection with your schools, allow me to return grateful acknowledgements for the confidence that has been placed in me.

CHARLES E. RYDER,

Superintending School Committee.
